Bad websites contain malware which can cause huge problems for any organisation. Cisco Umbrella only allows access to good sites, blocking all known bad sites both in AND out of the office, and can also be used to control which sites employees visit. Our managed service covers the installation and ongoing daily management of Umbrella - which means that you don't have to train your own staff, our experts will identify threats within your estate and produce easy to understand reports with recommended actions.

Cisco AMP for Endpoints is an advanced Anti-Malware service that goes further than standard Anti-Virus solutions. It constantly monitors files, alerting at the first sign of suspicious activity, which helps to contain the threat and prevent infections from spreading throughout your network. Our managed service covers the installation and ongoing daily management of AMP for Endpoints - which means that you don't have to train your own staff, as our experts will inform you of any threats and recommend any actions you need to take.

We provide ad-hoc consultancy to security teams for investigations, incident response, training or project design and solutions. We also cover security assessments, risk analysis, secure build hardening and technical standards, and offer a retainer service which means companies get specialist knowledge without having to have expensive experts on the payroll.
